DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The Japanese documents listed in the IDS filed on February 25, 2002, have been considered as far as the discussion provided in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, line 6 recites ,making one pattern "broader" then another which is not clear what the scope of the language is.

Claim 2, recites "said resist pattern" which is unclear as to what step in the previous claim is refers to.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsuda (US Patent 6,037,245).

Matsuda teaches a process of forming a pattern in a semiconductor device fabrication process. Figures 5A-5F and column 12, line 60 to column 13, line 45, teach the process. A first layer of photoresist is applied 84, followed by a second layer of photoresist 86. The top layer of photoresist is exposed through a mask and developed to form a pattern. Several layers of photoresist patterns are formed until the lower structure to be processed is exposed. It is taught that the lower lying patterns are larger than the overlying layers.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have formed a multiplayer photoresist structure whereby the lower layer has a larger pattern than the overlying photoresist patterns because Matsuda teaches that such a pattern is useful in the formation of semiconductor devices.
